

Lorna Jones

I grew up in Huyton and attended church as a Brownie Imp, then again as a teenager in Knotty Ash where I enjoyed the freedom of youth worship in a fellowship group. This taught me how influential an active church community can be on a young person.

I attended university in Brighton and then worked in IT and was lucky enough to travel and live in different places around the world.

A gap in my church attendance didn't result in a gap in my faith, and when I moved, with my husband, Bill, to our small smallholding in Brechfa in 2006, we accepted the invitation of Revd Lynn Chambers to attend St Teilo's and to study Exploring Faith with a small group. Here started my journey into ministry.

Moving to a place where nobody knew us, living on a small smallholding that needed rebuilding, bees that wanted to live somewhere else and so on has been exciting and challenging. But patience and gentle perseverance have given us a happy 15 years and currently a roof that no longer leaks.

Bill and I are looking forward to exploring the new area and to getting to know the people in it, the old traditions, and the new ones that Covid-19 is teaching us. We hope that we can quickly respond to God's intentions for us. I am excited about joining Canon Ann Howells and her team in Brosanclêr LMA.
